1. A German laborer watched the troops in the barracks installation in Kuestrin (O 53/V 66) while they received their rations on 28 March 1951, and estimated a total of 1,200 to 1,300 troops, including officers. Informant believed that an AAA regiment was located there. Conferences, lasting 3 to 4 hours, were held daily at the regimental headquarters, at which times the entrances to the headquarters building were guarded by sentries.

- 25X1B 2. [REDACTED] commuted daily between the barracks installation and Frankfurt/Oder, where the superior headquarters was believed to be stationed. Another truck occupied by two officers and 2 or 3 EM went to Eberswalde weekly. *

- 25X1A * [REDACTED] Comment. The information agrees with a previous report by the same source and confirms the belief that the barracks installation in Kuestrin quarters elements of the unidentified AAA Div, possibly the 32nd. See

- 25X1A [REDACTED] Source's opinion that the division headquarters is located in Frankfurt/Oder is probably correct.
